PUBLIC INPUT ON GUARDIANSHIP

The Florida Supreme Court's Guardianship Workgroup and Florida's Working Interdisciplinary Networks of Guardianship Stakeholders (WINGS) announce the following public event to hear input on guardianship.

DATE: Thursday, February 1, 2018
TIME: 4–7 p.m.
LOCATION: Orange County Courthouse
425 North Orange Avenue, Suite 180
Orlando, Florida 32801

Members of the public will be able to share their concerns about guardianship and to identify possible solutions for those concerns. This event will help the Guardianship Workgroup and Florida's WINGS advance guardianship reforms and increase the effectiveness of Florida's guardianship systems.

Speakers are asked to address one of two questions:

- If you could make one change in Florida's guardianship system, what would it be?
OR
- How can courts improve their processes to better ensure protection of the person, property, and rights of individuals who are under guardianship or who need assistance making decisions?

Comments should be succinct. A time limit will be imposed.

There is another way to make your voice heard. Comments may also be submitted through the WINGS website: <https://flwings.flcourts.org/> OR by using this QR code:

Persons with disabilities who need an accommodation to participate should contact Melinda Coulter, 850-922-5618 or coulterm@flcourts.org, as far in advance as possible but preferably by January 19.
